

POWERS TO SIGN LOCARNO PACTS IN BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE TOMORROW

Plans Virtually Complete for Ceremonial in Great Conference Room, Restored for Occasion.

PROMINENT MEN TO WITNESS EVENT

Talk Turns to Abolition of Submarine and Sea Blockade and Limitation of Aircraft.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 30.—Preparations for signing the treaties of Locarno tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock are virtually complete. The great conference room of the British Foreign Office, which was divided during the World War into offices, has been restored to its usual magnificence for another historic gathering—one that is expected to mean future peace for all Europe.

Inside the room there still remains to be set up the moving picture apparatus which is to record for future generations the signing by the various plenipotentiaries of the treaties formulated in the little Swiss village of Locarno.

The gathering is not to be limited to the actual signatories and will include Premier Baldwin and several of the members of his Cabinet, and Baron D'Abernon, British Ambassador to Germany, who is considered as having aided materially in obtaining Germany's adhesion to the security pact. It is understood that Ramsay MacDonald, former Premier, and other prominent men have been invited to attend the signing.

The British Foreign Secretary, Austen Chamberlain, has been awarded the Order of the Garter in recognition of his part in negotiating the Locarno security pact. The Order of the Garter is the highest order of knighthood in Great Britain. It consists of the Sovereign, the Prince of Wales and 25 knights companions; in addition such Princes and foreign sovereigns as may be chosen and sometimes extra companions chosen for special reason, so that the whole order usually numbers about 50. Since the reign of George III the appointments have been made by the sovereign.

With a settlement of the differences between France and Germany and the gathering together under the bonds of friendship of various other European states, the question of disarmament is being talked of. The abolition of the submarine and of the sea blockade and the abandonment of aircraft, except in actual military operations, are being suggested as possible guarantees for relief to all Europe from ruinous burdens of taxation.

Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany, accompanied by their secretaries, arrived in London this evening for the formal signing.

German Nationalists Angry at Hindenburg for Signing Treaties.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 30.—By affixing his executive signature to the Locarno bill before the German delegation proceeded to London President von Hindenburg dealt a staggering blow to the German reactionaries who, after their defeat in the Reichstag, had been to the President as the last barrier to formal ratification of the treaties.

The newspapers of the Right parties make ill concealment of their wrath over the President's action, the Chauvinistic Deutsche Zeitung going so far as to demand that the "flags, which once fluttered in honor of a patriotic President, now be hung half mast."

This paper says in the President's signature of the peace treaties is a "betrayal of the patriotic elements which made his election possible," and asserts that von Hindenburg has placed himself in opposition to the better portion of the German people.

Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann, the Foreign Minister, left for London last night, accompanied by a limited staff.

German disappointment with the "fruits of Locarno" thus far exhibited is by no means confined to official quarters and the Reichstag parties, and unless decided alleviation of the conditions of occupation in the Rhineland follows the concessions already granted, the Government which is to succeed the present Cabinet will be confronted by a refractory Reichstag and disaffected public opinion.

On his return from London, Luther will tender the Cabinet's resignation; whereupon, it is assumed in political circles, President von Hindenburg, immediately will convene the Reichstag and will arrange with the task of constructing a new Government. This, it is presumed, is the plan.

bourgeois ministry, comprising the Centrists, the German Peoples party, the Democratic and the Bavarian People's party.

The radicals are suspected of dodging, because a number of serious social issues are up for adjustment before the Reichstag and also because of their fear of communistic opposition if they are represented in the Government.

British Begin Evacuation of Cologne Day Before Schedule.

By the Associated Press. COLOGNE, Nov. 30.—British troops began the evacuation of the occupied Cologne zone this morning, a day earlier than arranged, and before the signature of the Locarno security agreement, which takes place tomorrow in London. The occupation of the zone bridgehead was undertaken by the British in accordance with the stipulations of the Treaty of Versailles. The treaty provided for evacuation after five years, on condition that Germany fulfilled the stipulation of the treaty. The period was extended when the allies found she had not carried out the disarmament provisions of the treaty.

The Berlin Government, having satisfied the Allied Council of Ambassadors in this respect, the evacuation was ordered for this week.

Brian Leaves Paris for London to Sign Treaty.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Premier Brian left today for London to participate in the signing of the Locarno security pact tomorrow. Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia and Her von Hoesch, the German Ambassador in Paris, saw him off at the station.

$2,500,000 STATE DEFICIT FOR BAKER AT END OF YEAR

face of the stringency confronting the State for next year, is not evident to other State officials. The Governor has blamed the 1925 Legislature for the situation, on the ground it overappropriated the revenues about $6,500,000 and failed to pass the Governor's three tax increase bills. The Governor made no active fight for his bills and they did not even pass in the Republican caucus. They never reached the Democratic Senate.

Estimate High. Other State officials declare the executive took the estimates of the State Tax Commission on anticipated revenues for 1925-26 without conferring with State officials who handle the revenues.

These estimates are high, it was said, and some of the hoped-for increase will not materialize. Had Gov. Baker slashed the appropriations by veto to the revenues conservatively expected, the present situation would not exist, it was said. He held up about $3,500,000 in appropriations. Approximately $400,000 of this had to be released early this year, as it covered deficiencies and there is no provision by law for holding up an appropriation. The creditors could have a suit and forced payment. Other appropriations for institutions and departments are being held up by agreement between the Governor and the department heads.

DRIVER OF AUTO KILLED IN CRASH WITH STREET CAR

Victor Restella Collides Head-On With Manchester Line Car When Going at High Speed.

WAS OPERATING A BORROWED MACHINE

Victim Survived by Widow and Five Minor Children—Boy, 11, Hurt in Another Accident.

Victor Restella, 39 years old, a gardener, of 5343 Pattison avenue, was killed last night when an automobile he was driving crashed head-on into a Manchester street car at Manchester and Barton avenues, at a point where both street-car tracks are on the south side of the street.

The motorman, William H. Price, 5918 Nashville avenue, told policemen that his street car was proceeding west in Manchester at 11 o'clock when he saw the automobile coming east in the westbound street-car tracks at a rapid rate of speed. He had applied his brakes when he crash occurred. He and the conductor, Ezra Woods of 1422 Granville place, gave bond to appear at the Coroner's inquest.

The machine, a Nash touring car, was the property of Louis Boris of 522 Walton avenue, who identified Restella. Boris told police Restella had borrowed the machine for the evening. The automobile was demolished.

Restella is survived by his widow, Louisa, and five minor children. His death was the 1724 moving day fatality of the year, as compared with 165 in the same period of last year.

Raymond Souman, 11, of 1216 Grattan street, suffered a fractured skull at 8 p. m. when struck by an automobile as he was crossing Chouteau avenue at Dillon street. The machine was driven by James Wagner, a carpenter, of 1908 La Salle street.

15 ST. LOUIS U. STUDENTS SUSPENDED FOR ABSENCE

Several Dental Classes Who Failed to Appear After Holiday May Not Go Back.

Members of the sophomore class of St. Louis University Dental School enjoyed a holiday Thanksgiving day, which was all right with everybody concerned. They also remained away from classes the following day, which was not all right with the university authorities. Accordingly, those who took off, 15 to 20, have been suspended. The few who did not take a holiday are still in school.

The suspension was ordered by Dr. James P. Harper, dean of the school, who had previously frowned on requests for three holidays in a row. At the university it was stated today that applications for reinstatement, with a probability that the ring-leaders will not be permitted to go back.

Ferguson-M'Kinney Crash Second Similar Business Relationship to Bring Censure on Murray Carleton

He Was Criticized by Courts for Part in Effort to "Freeze Out" Damage Claims in Tripartite Transit Deal of 1904.

THE $2,300,000 crash resulting from the triple relationship of the Carleton Dry Goods Co., the Ferguson-M'Kinney Manufacturing Co. and the Carleton-Ferguson Co. is the second case in which a tripartite business relationship has brought severe censure upon Murray Carleton, head of the dry goods enterprises, who, with Forest Ferguson, was indicted last Wednesday on charges of felonious making of false financial statements to obtain credit for the Ferguson-M'Kinney Manufacturing Co.

Carleton was president of both St. Louis Transit Co. and the United Railways Co. at the time when the tripartite agreement of Oct. 31, 1904, was made, conveying the properties of the Transit Co. to the United Railways.

The third party in that tripartite deal was the Philadelphia fiscal firm of Brown Bros. In the litigation which followed, Brown Bros. had little part, but Carleton, as head of the two traction concerns, bore the brunt of the very unfavorable comment made by both the St. Louis Court of Appeals and the Missouri Supreme Court upon one feature of the deal. This was the attempt to "freeze out" holders of damage claims against the Transit Co.

Damage Claims Not Provided For. In the transfer of assets from the Transit Co. to its twin corporation, United Railways, all obligations of the Transit Co. were provided for, except the obligations to the holders of damage claims. These claims were of one $1,000, and many of them were in the form of court judgments against the Transit Co.

The attempted freeze-out was cunningly devised, and was supported by skilled lawyers. It might have succeeded but for the persistence of one St. Louis attorney, who for five years pressed a case, unremunerative in itself, which established the principle that the United Railways was responsible for the judgments against its predecessor, the Transit Co.

The lawyer was Marion C. Early, and his client was David Barrie, a milk wagon driver, whose wagon was wrecked by a Transit car on South Jefferson avenue in February, 1900. One of Barrie's legs was broken. Barrie sued the Transit Co. and obtained judgment for $1250. Following the tripartite agreement, in which the Transit Co. practically passed out of existence, and the United Railways took over its assets, the United Railways Co. refused to pay Barrie's judgment.

History of 5-Year Legal Fight. Then began the five-year fight of Barrie's lawyer, Early to establish the responsibility of the United Railways Co. for the Barrie judgment and incidentally for all similar claims. Suit was filed against the United Railways Co. and Circuit Judge Matt G. Reynolds decided the suit in Barrie's favor in June, 1908. In May, 1909, the St. Louis Court of Appeals affirmed Barrie's judgment.

In the record of the decision, Carleton's name, as head of both the traction companies figuring in the deal, figures frequently, and statements made by him on the witness stand are commented upon. "Mr. Carleton testified," the court's record says, "that in arranging the tripartite agreement, and turning over control of the property from Transit to United Railways, no discussion whatever was indulged in as to the outstanding claims which had not matured in judgments, no provision whatever was made for their payment, and it was the intention of the boards of both companies to eliminate them from all consideration."

Carleton's testimony further stated that, as they did not know what these claims amounted to, it was impossible to provide for them. Judge Priest (Henry S. Priest, chief counsel of the United Railways) said the same, adding that many of the outstanding claims were fraudulent.

The testimony of all witnesses was that, in the execution of the tripartite agreement, providing for the liabilities to be assumed by United Railways, no thought or consideration was given, and no provision made, for the payment of unliquidated and unadjudicated claims for personal injuries or damages accruing prior to Nov. 1, 1904.

Carleton further appeared as testifying that the United Railways, in taking over the Transit assets, was simply "collecting rent." He said the Transit Co. surrendered its lease, and that the United Railways became the operating company.

"Lease Merely Surrendered." "The result," Carleton continued, "was that one stepped where the other began. The lease was merely surrendered, and the tenant moved over to the United Railways Co. and the United Railways Co. took possession of its property."

Carleton admitted, after persistent interrogation, the court said, that the United Railways had no property in addition to that which it had led to the Transit Co. The court said that Carleton, when the Transit Co. surrendered the lease, "Tested by the universally accepted definition of the essentials of a sale, this transaction was in no sense a sale." The court of Appeals says, "There were not two parties to the transaction. The agent was on both sides of the deal. It had two sides. There was but one mind, one body, a common directorate, controlling, carrying out, originating the whole transaction; there was no buyer, no seller, no exchange of the asset, the abandonment of the property by the same parties under one name, and the taking over of it by the same parties in another name. That is no sale, and does not place the taker in the position of purchaser."

"One Mind in Whole Transaction." "There was but one mind in the whole transaction, and it is difficult to see even two bodies. The United Railways took over the assets and properties not by contract, but by the mere fact of ownership and control by one man of the same property of the other."

Not Contemplated by Statute. "The statute does not contemplate that a group of men may create two street railway corporations, to operate the same system, both in the same place, covering the same territory, engaged in the same work, and shifting assets from one to the other under the guise of either leases or sales, at their pleasure."

The dual organization should decide not to use the statute to test before the courts in all its real import. It will not be tolerated. Nor will such transactions be treated by any court understanding them as actual business transactions, as contracts executed in good faith, to be protected and validated by the courts."

In its defense, the United Railways Co. declared that it had not been charged with fraud. Replying to this the Court of Appeals said there was a distinction between actual and constructive fraud. The Court said:

"When a creditor in his petition avers that his debtor has transferred property without consideration, or on inadequate consideration, leaving his debt unpaid, he sets out a state of affairs that is not quite accurate, therefore, to say that the petition in this case does not charge fraud."

Approved by Supreme Court. Three years afterward the Missouri Supreme Court approved the Missouri Court of Appeals in the Barrie case, and Judge Lamm of the Supreme Court added several pungent expressions to the statements which had been made by Judges R. L. Goode and George D. Reynolds of the Court of Appeals.

The suit decided by the Supreme Court against the United Railways Co. was that of J. Brooks Johnson, who had bought up a number of judgments obtained by individuals against the Transit Co. for personal injuries, and who sued the United Railways to enforce payment. At the counsel representing Johnson and associated claimants, the counsel being A. R. and Howard Taylor, Albert Hausman, Earl M. Pirkey, Lon O. Hocker, William L. Bohnenkamp, John A. Gilliam and William R. Gentry.

Judge Lamm's opinion does not mention the name of Carleton or other individuals, but it satirizes the outstanding features of the deal.

Comment of Judge Lamm. "There was no necessity," Judge Lamm said, "which called for the United Railways to take over all the properties of the Transit Co., and at the same time to leave the persons whom the Transit Co. had injured by its negligence in the lurch, to whittle for compensation."

"The claims of parties injured by negligence were designedly ignored and no adequate cause appears for such discrimination."

For reasons left to be conjectured, the men who control United Railways organized the Transit Co. The twin or allied companies were chartered to sit in the same corporate nest. Each had its finger in the other's affairs, they marked time or kept step together, until the voluntary death of one ostensibly parted them. The Transit Co. was bereft of all substance. It became less than a dry shell, a mere phrase, a curious relic. It had left to it neither debt-paying power nor debt-paying disposition."

Judge's Description of Deal. Judge Lamm laid down the principle that "Creditors have rights in the assets of a corporation superior to stockholders." He described the deal as resulting from a state of affairs in which, he said, the Transit Co. was "sorely stricken." He said that "everybody profited by the deal, except the miserable ones who suffered the wrongs of negligent personal injuries at its hands."

"The syndicate managers made vast gains; the Transit Co. stockholders made a very pretty penny; other debts of the Transit Co. were taken care of, dollar for dollar; United Railways got over $100,000 in cash from the Transit Co. and stepped into a business that netted over $1,000,000 the last year—a phenomenal year. It is true (this refers to the fact that 1904 was the World's Fair year) that it took over a plan of which its president (Carleton) boasted that it was equipped so well that it needed no extra expense for betterments for a considerable time."

"To crown all, old stockholders, by a pro rata exchange, would escape loss by swapping their stock at 5 for 2."

Nursery Fable Quoted. "These things were but links in a chain, a concatenation, and keeping in mind the dangling prize hanging out to the Transit stockholders, as was as in the nursery fable, the fire began to burn the stick, the dog began to bite the pig, the pig jumped over the stile, and the old woman got home that night."

Judges Valliant and Woodworth dissented from Judge Lamm's opinion on some points.

POLITICAL AIR AT HOUSE-WARMING PARTY OF GARDNER

Guests at Former Governor's New Country Home Indicate He Has Further Ambitions.

By CURTIS A. BETTS.

There was considerably more politics than appeared on the surface at a house-warming week-end party given by former Gov. Gardner Saturday and Sunday at his country place at Elm Point, three miles west of St. Charles. Every detail of the affair, except the makeup of the invitation list, appeared to have been studiously designed to avoid political significance.

And in that it became more political than if it had been a straight-out announcement party by the former Governor of further political ambitions. As it was, nobody talked politics in the formal speeches, but everybody sought to put a political construction upon almost all that was said. Gardner's guests were the publishers of a number of rural newspapers, who have supported him for office, and who are disposed to support him for the nomination for United States Senator if he becomes a candidate. They, with some of Gardner's St. Louis Democratic friends, were invited to dinner Saturday night to meet Walter Williams, dean of the Missouri University School of Journalism, the guest of honor.

Two Conclusions Justifiable. Probably there is justification for only two political conclusions from the party: One, that Gardner has not definitely decided to be a candidate for the Senate; the other, that he has not definitely decided not to be.

It is to be expected that most of his guests who control newspapers with the next week or two will comment on the senatorial situation with Gardner's possible candidacy put forward in its most favorable light. It may be that Gardner's decision will be reached when he gets the reaction from this expected publicity.

In the back-of-the-palms gossip there was expressed considerable doubt that Gardner even was considering the senatorial nomination. There were one or two guests who have been very close to the former Governor, who expressed the quiet opinion that Gardner was looking forward to a bid for the presidential nomination in 1938, and that instead of interfering with Congressman Hawes in the senatorial campaign, that Gardner would be disposed to placate all factions with a view to having support for the Missouri delegation to the next national convention.

Possible Decision of Advisers. However, if that far look should be the explanation for the political appearance of the nonpolitical social gathering, Gardner and his advisers might think the best way to obtain support of candidates now in the race, was to make some show of opposition to them, forcing them to pledges of support for him to get him out of their way.

Aside from the Gardner situation there was considerable talk of the next campaign for Governor, with Walter Williams of Columbia and Alfred N. Gossett of Kansas City most discussed as likely candidates. Williams probably has as large, if not the largest personal following of any man in the State who has not sought through political campaigns to draw a following. Gossett recently was elected a member of the new City Council of Kansas City. He is a man of force and ability who probably will be the largest factor in the control of the municipal Government in Kansas City.

Source of Gubernatorial Talk. The talk of Williams for the nomination came from rural Democrats, while that for Gossett came from St. Louisans who were associated with him when he was a member of the constitutional convention of the Legislature.

In addition to Williams and Gardner and former Judge Daniel G. Taylor, the toastmaster, the speakers at the dinner were former Lieutenant Governor Wallace Crossley, editor of the Warrensburg Star-Journal; H. J. Blanton, editor of the Paris Appeal and a member of the University Board of Curators; State Senator Dwight H. Brown, editor of the Poplar Bluff American; W. C. VanCleve, editor of the Moberly Monitor-Index; Lawrence McDaniel, former Circuit Attorney of St. Louis; W. H. Powell, a Sedalia banker; Joshua Barbee, of Kansas City, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and James W. Byrnes, Democratic nominee for Mayor of St. Louis in 1921.

SAFE IN E. ST. LOUIS DRY GOODS STORE ROBBED OF $2100

Cracksmen Enter Fellner-Crow Building by Knocking Boards From Top of Elevator Shaft.

When the Fellner-Crow Dry Goods Co., 300 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, was opened for business today it was discovered that the company's safe had been robbed of $2100, Saturday's receipts, by cracksmen, who knocked the combination from the safe.

The store was closed at 10:30 p. m. Saturday and the robbery was committed between that time and 7 a. m. today.

Entrance to the building was gained by knocking boards from the top of the elevator shaft, on the roof of the three-story building. The cracksmen climbed down the elevator shaft to a point even with the first-floor balcony, on which the safe was located, and then drilled a hole in the wall through which they entered the balcony.

A sledge hammer, a drill and a leather bag, in which the money was kept in the safe, were found on the roof of the building, indicating that the robbers departed as they had entered. The roof can be reached from adjoining buildings on the north. The money was insured.

$372 Stolen in Four St. Louis Safe Robberies.

Four office safes in St. Louis business houses were found open this morning with combinations hammered off and various sums stolen.

At the Steiner Furniture Co., 1200 South Broadway, robbers entered through a third-floor skylight and descended to the first floor, where $237 was taken from the safe. At the St. Louis Marble and Tile Co., 3039 Adams street, $100 was taken from the safe, and at the National Lumber Co., 2220 Lucas avenue, $35 was stolen from two safes. At the Hellwig Painting Co., 2826 Locust street, robbers removed a combination but failed to open the inner doors of a safe.

RESTAURANT HOLDUP FAKED, NEW EMPLOYEE CONFESSES

Police Say John Fitzgerald and Ovid Pennington Admit Robbery Plot.

The holdup was realism itself. The robber, young and masked, strode into Smeechuyzen's restaurant at 8122 North Broadway at closing time Saturday. He cursed like a buccaneer.

John Fitzgerald, 20 years old, the waiter, surrendered $57.95 with apparent reluctance. All he managed to do was to hand over the money to the cellar door with Daniel Bolin, 63, cook, a hard, cold instrument was jabbed against their backs.

Mrs. John Smeechuyzen was suspicious when Fitzgerald and Bolin emerged through the coal chute and told their story. Bolin was an old employee and all right, she told detectives, but Fitzgerald was new. Yesterday when he arrived for duty he was arrested. He admitted a frame-up, police say, and named his roommate, Ovid Pennington, 21, at the Garrick Hotel, as the robber. Pennington confessed, too, according to police, and declared his weapon was a large pocket knife.

Fitzgerald said he needed money for debts and clothes. After dividing, he paid $11 he owed Pennington, his room rent, and bought $5 worth of wearing apparel, he said. Fitzgerald came recently from Roberts, La., Pennington from Paragould, Ark.

WOMAN SAYS VISITOR HIT HER WITH CLOCK AND FLASK

Mrs. Margaret Enyart, widow of Charles Enyart, a saloon keeper, last night asked police to find a man who, she said, had beaten her when she returned to her home at 3656 South Compton avenue at 9 o'clock.

She said the man, a former friend, had been admitted to her home by her mother, Mrs. Mary Casey, and had asked to be allowed to wait for her. When she came home the visitor hurled a clock at her, beat her with a soda bottle, smashed up $300 worth of furniture and ran from the house, carrying her hat trimmed with a $175 bird of paradise.

Mrs. Enyart, who said she had recently incurred the enmity of the man, suffered lacerations of the head and neck.

PLEA FOR THE 5-CENT CIGAR
MADE BY ST. LOUIS LABOR MEN
Committee Appears Before Gov. Baker's Commission to Protest Against 10 Per Cent Tobacco Tax.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—A protest against a 10 per cent tax on the sales value of cigars and cigarettes, included in Gov. Baker's proposed constitutional amendment to provide a separate support fund for state and public schools, was made by a delegation of St. Louis labor leaders, in a conference here today of the Governor's committee, which is drawing up the amendment. Objection to the tax was on the ground that it would impose an unfair burden on cigarmakers and do away with the 5-cent cigar. The tobacco industry now carries a heavy burden of taxation, it was said, and the addition of 10 per cent on the retail sales price would drive some of the smaller manufacturers out of business. The delegation included David Kreyling, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union; W. M. Brandt and Henry Keller, representing a cigarmaker's union, and D. J. Murphy of the Central Trades and Labor Union. They urged that the 10 per cent tax be reduced and the tax spread out to include chewing gum, cosmetics and luxuries. The purpose of the meeting today was to reach an agreement on the final form of the proposed amendment, which is to be submitted through the initiative in the November, 1926, election.

WILBUR DECLINES JUDGESHIP
Secretary of Navy Tells California Governor He Won't Leave Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Secretary Wilbur declined today a tender of the chief justiceship of the Supreme Court of California. The offer came from Gov. Richardson. The chief justiceship recently became vacant by resignation of the incumbent Judge. The offer is understood to have been received Saturday while Wilbur was at the Army and Navy football game in New York.

Both Wilbur and the White House recently declined the Secretary intended to leave the Cabinet. The judgeship which he declined is the one he held at the time of his appointment as Secretary of the Navy. In his telegram to Gov. Richardson Wilbur said: "I feel that my post of duty is here."

$60,000 HOLRUP IN NEWARK
Employees of Department Store Stopped by Six Armed Men in Auto.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 30.—Six robbers held up two employees of the Hahne & Co. department store this afternoon and escaped with $60,000 in cash and checks being taken to a bank. The employees had just left the department store when the delivery wagon was forced to the curb by the robbers, who were in an automobile.

Face and neck covered with eruption
Resinol cleared it away

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 26:—"I think Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are wonderful—I was a sufferer from skin trouble and I know what they did for me. I had only a few pimples at first, but this infection soon spread until they covered my face and neck and made me look disgraceful. They irritated me so I could scarcely keep my fingers off them. I tried various treatments, but none gave more than temporary relief. A friend recommended Resinol and I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap. After the second application of each, the itching stopped and when I had used the Resinol products for five weeks, there was not a trace of the trouble left." (Signed) Arthur Smith, 489 Hudson Ave.

Edward C. Young, 30 years old, who disappeared June 8, leaving his tools and work clothes at the Chevrolet automobile plant where he was employed, is the object of a renewed police search at the request of his wife, Mrs. Olivia Young, 1937 Withnell avenue.
Young is an overseas veteran and his disappearance may be traced, his wife says, to afflictions suffered during the war. Since he disappeared Mrs. Young's father has died, and a baby girl, now 13 weeks old, has been born.

REORGANIZATION PLAN FOR COUNTY UTILITY

Water and Light Concerns Would Form New Company and Issue $5,000,000 Bonds.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—Approval of a plan for reorganization of the West St. Louis Water and Light Co., which supplies water to 25,000 homes in St. Louis County, is asked for in a petition filed with the Missouri Public Service Commission here today.
The company and its subsidiary, the West St. Louis Pipe Line Co., would reorganize as the St. Louis County Water Co., absorb all property and obligations of the old concerns, issue 25,000 shares of common stock and 25,000 shares of preferred stock.
Authority is requested to issue $5,000,000 in bonds. The organizers would sell 14,000 shares of the new stock and issue $2,800,000 in bonds at once, in order to buy old shares of the water company for $1,400,000, shares of the pipe line company for $319,000, and retire $1,150,000 in outstanding bonds.
Officers of the Water Company told the commission today that the purpose of the reorganization was to finance necessary additions and improvements to meet an increasing demand for service. A hearing on the petition will be held next Monday.
As has been told, John H. Bothwell, who was principal owner, president and director of the Water Company, recently sold his holdings and resigned from the company. W. H. Henby, who was secretary-manager, became president.
The company was organized in 1924 and its valuation as of Oct. 1, 1923, was $4,875,133. The pipe line company controls the line from Hine to Olive Street road and was valued at $300,000. A bill which would permit the sale of the company to the City of St. Louis was adopted by the Legislature last spring.

F. A. WEBER, NURSERY OFFICER, DIES; FUNERAL WEDNESDAY
Succumbs to Heart Attack at Age of 57 Following Four Years of Illness.

Frank A. Weber, secretary-treasurer of the H. J. Weber Nursery Co. at Nursery, on the Gravois and Weber roads, died of heart disease at his family residence, 3834 Gravois avenue, yesterday morning. He had been ill for four years. The funeral will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at an undertaking establishment at 3834 Gravois avenue, with burial at St. Lucas Cemetery, Sappington.
Weber was born May 5, 1868, in an old house on the nursery grounds. When he was 21 his father, the late Henry J. Weber, took him into the business, which had been started in 1867. The company was incorporated in 1903 by Henry Weber's four sons, three of whom survive their brother. They are William A., Walter T. and George A. Weber. Frank Weber succeeded his father as postmaster of Nursery Postoffice, which served a small community about a mile beyond the city limits.

YEARS OF STOMACH AND BOWEL TROUBLE

Newspaper ad on Milk's Emulsion guided her back to health.

"I suffered from stomach and bowel trouble in the worst form for a long time. I went through three serious operations and doctors all the time, but found nothing that would do me any good.

"On seeing Milk's Emulsion advertised in the daily papers I decided to try it. The first three doses relieved me, and I am now on my feet, and can say I have never taken any medicine that has done me so much good. I am feeling better than I ever did since my operation. I am gaining in health and flesh rapidly. I now weigh 148 lbs. — Mrs. Hattie Sharpe, 1016 Ridge St., Kookuk, Ia. Milk's Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, thus building flesh and strength, which are Nature's own aids in conquering germs and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion. If not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by druggists everywhere.

For years the doctor had been a familiar figure in the town. His buggy, and later his Ford, had waited before nearly every house along the village street, had stood in the doorway of nearly every farm for miles around. Yet he never charged high fees. Often, indeed, in needy cases, he forgot to charge at all. How was it, then, that he left his family "well-fixed"?

The townspeople wondered. But the records of G. L. Miller & Co. give the answer. The same sensible scheme of investment is open to you. Miller Bonds are safe and pay interest up to 7%. Write for Booklet 260. G. L. MILLER & CO.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.

COST OF RUNNING STATES DOUBLE EXPENSE IN 1917

Maintenance and Operation of General Departments of Commonwealths Last Year, $1,001,405,258.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-23 Wyant Building, WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The cost of running state governments continues to mount. Last year the payments for maintenance and operation of the general departments of state jurisdictions were $1,001,405,258, an increase of $105,511,476 over 1923 and an increase of $575,735,526 over 1917, when the payments for general operations were $899,933,782 and $426,829,432 respectively.

In similar terms this means that after taking into consideration the increase of population during these years the per capita expense for running the governments has increased from $4.19 in 1917 to $5.17 in 1924.

These statistics were announced today by the Commerce Department Census Bureau in a recapitulation of the finances of the 48 states.

Missouri Below Average. The cost of running the general departments of the Missouri government is under the general average of the country. As published in the Post-Dispatch last month, operation in Missouri cost $7.92 per capita last year, $7.18 in 1923 and $8.31 in 1917.

Total payments for all branches of the governments, including those for public service enterprises, interest on debt and for permanent improvements make the comparisons even more lop-sided since last year these payments amounted to $1513,628,021 whereas in 1923 they were $1,310,332,793 and in 1917 they were $517,503,220.

The increase from 1917 was $996,124,801 and from 1923 it was $203,295,228. These outlays for permanent improvements, however, were principally for highways, which cost 79.9 per cent of the total outlays. The next in importance were those for education, amounting to $38,127,697, and for charities, hospitals and correction, amounting to $27,272,371.

In the payments for operation and maintenance the highest outlays were for education, with a ratio of 37 per cent. The other expenses of operation were in the following order: charities, hospitals and correction, 16.5 per cent; highways, 12.3 per cent; general government, 7.4 per cent; protection to person and property, 5.1 per cent; development and conservation of natural resources, 5.3 per cent; health and sanitation, 2.3 per cent; recreation, 3 per cent and miscellaneous, 13.8 per cent.

Permanent Improvements Cost Third. Of the total outlays in last year 66.2 per cent was for the operation and maintenance of the general departments; 7 per cent was for the operation of public service enterprises; 3.7 per cent, for the interest on public debt, and 29.4, outlays for permanent improvements.

The total revenue receipts for all the 48 states for 1924 were $1,370,066,018. This was $201,713,633 more than the total payments for the year exclusive of outlays for permanent improvements, but $148,562,003 less when the improvements were included.

"In only 21 states was there sufficient revenue to meet all the payments during the year," the report stated. Payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations.

The total per capita revenue receipts were $12.31 in 1924, $11.35 in 1923 and $5.14 in 1917. Property and special taxes represented 42.3 per cent of the total revenues in 1924. The increase in the amount of such property and special taxes collected was 96.4 per cent from 1917 to 1923 and 1.2 per cent from 1923 to 1924. The per capita property and special taxes were $5.20 in 1924, $5.22 in 1923, $2.36 in 1917. Special taxes in 1924 included $79,308,328, inheritance taxes in 48 states, and $28,773,501, income taxes in 13 states.

Business Licenses Pay Third. Business and nonbusiness licenses constituted 31.8 per cent of the total revenue for 1924, 27.2 per cent for 1923 and 23.3 per cent for 1917. Receipts from business licenses consisted chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies, and the sales taxes on gasoline; while those from nonbusiness licenses comprised chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts for hunting and fishing privileges.

Receipts from the sales tax on gasoline amounted to $50,581,799 in 1924 and motor vehicle licenses amounted to $168,136,931. The net indebtedness (funded and floating debt less sinking fund assets) continued to increase, and in 1924 was $1,282,467,433, or $10.61 per capita. In 1923 the per capita debt was $9.72 and in 1917 $4.92. Bonds in 1924 were largely for highways and for the payment of soldiers' bonuses.

The per capita net indebtedness for Missouri was $12.51 last year. In 1923 it was $9.23 and in 1917 $2.91. For 1924 the assessed valuation of property in the 48 states amounted to $131,333,557,565. The amount of general property taxes levied for state purposes was $368,092,710. The per capita levy was $2.31 for 1924, $5.13 for 1923 and $1.32 for 1917. In 1924 there were no general property taxes levied for state purposes in Pennsylvania, North Carolina and California.

Was Once An Invalid—Now Eats Anything

For a long time Mrs. J. B. Manning lived on bread and milk because everything soured in her stomach and she had gas. After she took the mixture of buckthorn bark, senna, etc., known as Adierka she can eat anything without forming gas and gloom setting.

Many people keep the OUTSIDE body clean but let their INSIDE body stay full of gas and poison. Give the inside a REAL cleansing with the mixture of buckthorn bark, senna, etc., sold under the name of Adierka. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels, eliminates morbid poisons and removes old matter which you never thought was in your system, and which caused sour stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, etc.

Whenever you eat too much heavy food, let Adierka REMOVE the undigested surplus and leave you feeling fine. ONE spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full bloated feeling. Even if your bowels move every day, Adierka brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble. Don't waste time with pills or tablets but let Adierka give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief.

What Doctors Say
Dr. O. Egeers reports Adierka is the best medicine he has used in 27 years.
Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adierka.
Dr. J. L. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years says "I know no medicine better than Adierka."
Dr. L. Langlois prescribes Adierka regularly with GOOD effect.
Dr. E. E. Puckett writes: "After using Adierka I feel better than for 20 years. AWFUL impurities were eliminated from my system."
Adierka is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary laxatives and stomach medicines because of its REAL and quick action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. In St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Eberhard Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., and other leading druggists.

distribution of the State Tax burden between cities and country is given in a taxation analysis being made by Chairman J. T. Waddill, of the State Tax Commission, which shows that the city of St. Louis and six of the 114 Missouri counties paid 71.6 per cent of the State taxes in 1924.

Of the 108 counties paying the remaining 28.4 per cent of State taxes, 102 counties received back more from the state during the year under various appropriations, than they paid into the State Treasury in tax sub-divisions that are carrying the bulk of the State taxation burden contain 43.9 per cent of the State's population, based on the last Federal census.

How Property Tax Is Divided. Principal state taxes are the direct property tax, State income, corporation franchise, and inheritance taxes. The direct property tax of 11 cents on the $100 valuation includes five cents for general purposes, three cents for blind pensions, two cents for soldier bonuses and one cent for retirement of State capital bonds.

Counties receive back from the State money for public schools, special aids for schools, half the cost of assessing and collecting the revenue, criminal costs, and other items.

Barry County, according to Waddill's figures, received back from the State appropriations in 1924 that exceeded by $47,883 the amount the county paid in State taxes. About 15 counties received back from $30,000 to $40,000 more than they paid in. The counties that received by the other counties among the 102 ranged from $30,000 down to a few hundred dollars. In 1924 St. Louis paid in State taxes a total of $3,772,050 and received back from the State $1,353,441, including $27,495 in the school appropriation. The city paid in $24,418,609 more than it got back. Jackson County paid in $672,575 more than it got back. Buchanan County got $123,877 less than it paid in. St. Louis County got $16,621 less than it paid in.

Comparisons made by Waddill on taxes paid by St. Louis and six counties, under the four principal tax headings, with payments by the 108 other counties, follows:

Taxes of "Big Seven" Compared. In the Tax—The seven paid $3,084,461, or 92.15 per cent. The 108 counties paid $260,650, or 7.85 per cent. St. Louis alone paid $1,922,427, or 57.48 per cent.

Inheritance Tax—The seven paid $966,197, or 80.9 per cent; other 108 counties paid $227,524, or 19.1 per cent. St. Louis alone paid $619,381, or 51.5 per cent.

Direct Property Tax—The seven paid $2,265,872, or 48.78 per cent; other 108 counties paid $2,378,298, or 51.22 per cent. St. Louis alone paid $1,231,241, or 26.5 per cent.

Corporation Franchise—Amounts by counties not available. Estimated the seven contributed 90 per cent of the $1,419,043 paid in 1924. The remaining 108 counties paid 10 per cent. The Secretary of State's department estimated St. Louis paid approximately 50 per cent of the tax.

The one tax where the bulk of the State burden does not fall on the cities and territory immediately adjacent is the direct property tax, Waddill said. He pointed out that St. Louis and the six counties containing the other larger cities paid 48.78 per cent of the direct property tax, while paying 80 to 92.15 per cent of the other taxes. He said this was due to evasion or taxes in the cities on money notes, bonds and other intangibles. Really, in the city, he said, the proportion, he said, but personal property and intangibles were escaping taxation to a large degree.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" is Far Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in any case for indigestion or sour acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "brighten" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Fascism has lifted its head in France. What it portends for the future depends upon events. It is no more important now than Italian Fascism was at the beginning, and is, perhaps, no less important.

It came into the open for the first time about two weeks ago at a meeting at which about 1500 were expected. Six thousand came. This was one group, the "combatants and producers" of Paris.

The local Fascist organizations throughout France number already perhaps 50,000. The Fascists themselves claim 100,000. They have their own newspaper, organizers, launching of the Fascist movement. All efforts in the past to develop Fascism failed until the Socialists, although a minority began to exercise a preponderant influence in politics. An impartial observer would have to admit that former Premier Painleve, by openly yielding in the financial discussion to an organized and belligerent Socialist minority, is partly responsible for arousing the active opposition that has taken the form of Fascism.

Reaction to Soviet Rule. The French always are aggressively democratic and their Fascism is all the more formidable because it has its start as the reaction to a minority rule—Soviet rule—the Fascists as well as many other people call it. Fascism has an excuse that the even feel of democracy in France has been disturbed throughout the governmental and financial crisis by the determination of the Socialists, even though a minority, to force the Government to adopt their financial measures, notably the capital levy.

To follow the disturbance to democracy a little further back, the Socialists have been pushed into taking this position by the activities of the Communists, who have been working steadily in all the factory regions of France, winning Socialist workers over into their party.

The Socialists to stop this, felt that they had to take an uncompromising position before their members. To a large degree they succeeded in preventing the defection of Socialist workers to the Communist party, but their course had also this other result, Fascism.

The Marquis de Castelnau tried to start a Fascist movement last year in opposition to Herriot. It got its first start after the Communists succeeded in turning the funeral of Jaures in the Pantheon into a Red pageant. But it did not develop very far before the Herriot Government, seeing a danger in the rapid growth of Communism, raided the Communist headquarters in Belleville and made it plain to everybody that it was not going to permit the formation of Red Guards or any other form of active revolution. So the Marquis de Castelnau's Fascism dropped out of sight.

Leaders of Movement. This year's Fascism may also disappear, but it has a better chance as the people who would naturally be likely to lend their support to a Fascist movement would be hit in the pocket by the Socialists, whose effort at "Soviet rule" in France has given the Fascists an excuse for organizing.

Like the Fascists in Italy, those of France are under the leadership of people hitherto unheard of. There are five, Jacques Arthurs, Philippe Barres, George Valois, Hubert Bourguin and Jacques Roulin. The first three are the most active. Barres is the son of Maurice Barres, novelist and Nationalist.

Arthurs and Valois, no more known than Mussolini five years ago, no more known than Roberto Parmanoci a year ago, are the type of vigorous and violent young men who are leading French Fascism. That is what makes their movement important. It is no political

DRAMA

Again the Lisp, Titter and Eccentric Hats of Ed Wynn, in "The Grab Bag."

By RICHARD L. STOKES.
SOME jurisdictions regard as illegal the form of lottery known as a grab bag, this being a box containing articles which are to be drawn without being seen, on the payment of a small sum. But the most rigorous magistrate would be compelled to recognize Ed Wynn for his enterprise this week at the American Theater. Every article in his "Grab Bag" is a prize.

Wynn has conferred upon himself the degree of "F. F." meaning "Perfect Fool." This is supplemented by a "B. A." from the University of Pennsylvania. Both titles are correct. This revue is replete with gaudy, abdominal guffaws. It is also cleverly inventive. A large audience last night failed to discover a dull moment in the two acts of 12 scenes, which were enlivened by the comedian's gnome-like grin, affected titter, perturbing wise-cracks and side-shaking assortment of hats, coats, trousers and footwear.

The Fool-Bag of Reverses.
Wynn not only stars in his piece, but figures as librettist, lyricist and composer—functioning in the fourth role quite amiably, with occasional assistance from Wagner, Schumann and MacDowell. His band is particularly visible in the skill with which maddening vaudeville turns become farcical, and ancient revue material is refurbished into something fresh and new.

He brings forth also his inventions for the uplift of feeding—the spoon with an elastic handle, to prevent tea drinkers raising their cups from poking out their eyes; the knife with a safety razor guard; the necktie protector for inhalers of soft-boiled eggs, the set of five thimbles for those who dip bread in gravy, and the attachment which warns corn eaters that they are near the end of the cob and saves them from biting their thumbs.

"Bridge players live a long time, but grape shooters go like that," exclaimed Wynn, with a snap of the fingers. "She looked me up in Bradstreet's, and now I'm Dun," was his explanation of losing a sweetheart. As titles for various songs, he suggested "When You're With Me I'm Lonesome" and "She Could Be a School Teacher but She Has No Class!" Not so Falstaffian in print, but sure fire when projected with lisp, titter and smirk across the footlights.

Good Cast, Too.
Besides the leader, there is considerable talent in the show. Albert Shaw and Samuel Lee, from vaudeville, are hayseed comics and expert dancers. The three Ormond sisters warble harmonizations of Scotch, Eva Shirley and Fern Rogers sing much better than the usual revue prima donnas. Eileen Hamilton and Dorree Leslie are excellent dancers. And the best team of acrobats to be seen are the Le Scoth, one of whom is a slender youth as supple as a snake, and the other an exuberantly agile fat person. The chorus is more than customarily personable.

There are the traditional spectacles, such as "The Birth of Chorus Girl," "The Rose," "The Scotch Fair," "The Woodland" and "The Apartment," with all the furniture consisting of girls disguised as rugs, bureaus, lamp stands, beds and so on. The "Birth of Chorus Girl" is a familiar comedy "horse" takes on a new lease of life through its false teeth, red tail light, and custom-made shoes.

Once the serious Wynn emerged, when he introduced an act of comic singers whom he found sitting on the steppes of Russia. After a few witticisms, the comedian withdrew, explaining that he did not care to deprecate good music with buffoonery. The Slav danced several airs, and in particular the "Volga Boat" song, like a section of the Ukrainian Chorus.

"Excuse Me," by Rupert Hughes, was seen in Pullman Car.
A MILLING crowd in the lobby of the Empress Theater yesterday afternoon appeared in a hurry to get some place on time. It was a capacity house of patrons, and the fact is that the "joy special" of the Woodward Players for a thoroughly enjoyable tour of comedy by Rupert Hughes, called "Excuse Me."

The action occurs in the Pullman and buffet cars of a westbound passenger train. Mallory, an army officer, is accompanied to the train by his bride-to-be, and before she can get off it pulls out. Life in a Pullman is no fun at best, but when an unmarried man and woman find themselves looked upon as newlyweds in a crowded car, it becomes a nightmare.

Bobby Reed in blackface is exceptionally good. J. Glynn McFarlane is the officer, and Miss Geneva Powers his sweetheart. The comedy is capably played.

Frances Arms Leads Orpheum Bill
With Character Songs.
FOR those who did not hear enough of him last week, John Steel, musical comedy tenor, remains at the Orpheum this week for an extended engagement. He has been moved from hearing post to No. 4 spot. The new headliner is William Desmond, movie cowboy, who has an unconventional playlet, "The Dude Bandit," for which the most that can be said is that it permits Desmond to appear in what, so far as is known is the only perfectly snow-white two-suiter in existence.

One act, which is nothing extraordinary, but pleasantly diverting. That of Frances Arms, who has a number of character songs that register her somewhat unusual and agreeable personality. A dance of dancing by Ted and Kathryn Anderson.

TO MAKE DEBUT.

MR. AND MRS. EDGAR LACKLAND TAYLOR will entertain a group of the debutantes at a theater party this evening followed by a supper and dance at Hotel Chase, for their daughter, Miss Durcas Carr Taylor. The affair is to take place at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Tompkins Jr., of Waterman avenue, who is prevented from being hostess by family mourning.

The young women in the party will be Miss Marie Carr Taylor, sister of the honor guest, and Misses Eugene Edmunds, Janet Wallace, Maud Miller Street, Katharine McCluney, Elizabeth Hoblitzelle, Josephine Bates, Helen Abell Conley, Juliet Lee Carpenter and Agnes Benoit.

Another large theater party tonight is to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Bay, 6440 Cecil avenue, and their daughter, Miss Barbara, in honor of Miss Allen Longenecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Longenecker. Additional members of the party will be Misses Louise Church, Lillie Allen, Chouteau Scott, Jane Leahy, Isabelle Haley, Ruth Curby, Mary Carter Davis, Mary Elise Lammert and Messrs. # GEORGE H. SCRUTON, SEDALIA EDITOR, DIES AT HIS HOME

One-Time Head of Missouri Democratic Press Association Served Overseas During War.
By the Associated Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 30.—George H. Scruton, editor of the Sedalia Democrat, died at his home yesterday. He was 63 years old and had been in failing health since last July.

Col. Scruton had been editor of the Democrat since 1907, at which time the Sedalia Sentinel, of which he was editor, was consolidated with that paper. At one time he was president of the Missouri Democratic Press Association.

Born at Rome, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1862, he was taken by his parents to Sedalia, where he was educated. It was there that he took up newspaper work.

He was married to Miss Alice L. Morgan at Bath Beach, L. I., July 16, 1890, and two years later moved to Sedalia, Ark., where he purchased the Fort Smith Times. After managing that paper for three years, he went to Springfield, Mo., and became connected with the Springfield Leader. In 1907 he came to Sedalia and, after working on the Sentinel and Democrat for a number of years, assumed editorship of the two papers when they were consolidated.

Mr. Scruton was commissioned a captain in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army in 1917 and served overseas in the World War. Shortly after his enlistment he was made a major and before the conflict was over was promoted to a colonel. Three of his sons also saw service during the war.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four sons, Charles M., now in the Army at San Antonio, Tex.; Allen E. of Sedalia, Mo.; George H. Jr., a newspaper man of Jeanette, Pa.; and Dorman Kelly Scruton of Sedalia. A brother, O. J. Scruton of Utica, N. Y., also survives.

HARRY SCULLIN BACK HOME AFTER VACATION IN MEXICO

Harry Scullin, president of the Scullin Steel Co. and V. C. Turner, secretary-treasurer, have returned from a month's vacation in Sonora, Mexico, in the course of which they visited the Gulf of California. They caught Spanish mackerel, sea bass and pompano. When they tired of fishing they went to adjacent hills for hunting, bringing back hides of five black and white deer. At Nogales, Ariz., Scullin and Turner were met by W. Berkford Kibby, an American who has resided in Mexico for 25 years. Kibby took them to his ranch, 70 miles to the south, in Sonora, and later drove them to Port Lobos, 200 miles to the southwest, which is approachable by land only through a desert.

NEW FILMS

ONE haughty blonde facial expression (Mae Murray) and jumping Jack Gilbert hold forth this week at Loew's State in the old-fashioned rendition of "The Merry Widow." It is an interesting costume play done in the grand movie manner. Eric von Stroheim has taken the light, inconsequential, but charming Sonia of the musical comedy and transposed her into a bundle of suppressed desires tied in the middle with a sable sash. In most of the scenes Miss Murray is so richly gowned that it is impossible for her as it would be for most any woman, to act. One gets the impression that she loves her fur neckpiece much better than Prince Danilo and is more anxious over the swing of her train than the developments of the plot. At the climax of the picture when Prince Danilo lies badly wounded on the floor he thought of the widow loved Prince Mike, his opponent. Miss Murray appears clad in a white opera cloak with a polar bear collar, her hair neatly pinned and jewelry in place, after a breakfast dash to halt the duel. Eric von Stroheim has been painstakingly grand and significant in every detail. Even the crucifix in the widow's bedroom shows a life-size figure. Mike, the scene that is allowed more sneers per produced. Most closeups of Miss Murray have been made through crepe de chine in the approved artistic style, so that Miss Murray and everything else are softly blurring, and the sets are breath-takingly extravagant. Withal, it is an overdone and artificial interpretation of a popular play, and audiences will be enthusiastic. But is it a great triumph for Mae Murray or Jack Gilbert or Eric von Stroheim? Piffle.

the appealing Irene Rich is about to have her husband stolen by a flirtatious half-sister. But does she weep and wail? She does not. Flying into a rage, she lambastes the other woman with a riding crop. Everybody at the St. Louis last night wondered why she didn't give the mean thing a good shoving in the bargain. It was a blood-thirsty audience, and broke into applause each time the riding crop fell. Many women looked as if they thought the husband ought to get a few licks, too. But that is where the point of the picture comes in. Life, remarks the subtitle writer, is a compromise. Ladies who would like to whip or shoot their husbands don't. In "Compromise" the husband is so grateful over not being shot that he decides to live a better life.

A Sweet, Sweet Picture.

ALL those who like Blanche Sweet (and who doesn't?) should see her and Ben Lyon make love in "The New Commandment" at Grand Central, West End Lyric and Capitol. They won't see very much else. The plot is silly, implausible and trivial but, well, those close-ups in the garden! Kisses. More kisses. And then Ben goes off to war and Blanche becomes a nurse (they have been separated through a misanderstanding) and all through the war Ben doubts her, because she was an artist's model. The new commandment is "Thou shalt not doubt" and when they meet again under the bombed ruins of a chateau, does he doubt? Not a doubt.

Homespun Hokum.

"LAZEBONES" at Kings is about as close to a trifling loafer, but a real good guy at heart, understand, who adopts a baby because Zazu Pitts married a seaman and the seaman got drowned and her mother wouldn't believe her story about the child. His girl doesn't believe his story about the baby, either, and so time goes on and on, until the baby's mother dies and everything turns out all right. The bicycle period in which most of the action takes place is beautifully done, settings are arranged with taste and the parts are handled ably. The only thing needed to make this picture perfect is a story worthy of its production, but at that the story is so bad, if you can believe it. In celebration of anniversary week Kings is putting on a number of good vaudeville acts.

Polar Bears.

THE REVOLI is showing this week H. A. Snow's "Hunting Big Game in the Arctic," which has its first presentation here at the American at special price. It is worth while.

More of the Same Bebe.

"LAZEBONES IN QUARANTINE" at the Delmonte is one of those pictures which will keep audiences looking at the screen without any undue sense of fatigue and permits them to chuckle every three minutes or so. In other words an amusing but not hilarious comedy starring Bebe Daniels, that old, rash bad girl. Bebe's sister, who has been promised to marry in this one has promised to push the last two men and tries to push the last one off on her. Bebe is willing, but the unfortunate young man is not at first enthusiastic. She succeeds in convincing him to fore the boat on which they start

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

AMERICAN POLITICS.

FRANK R. KENT in Harper's Magazine for December.

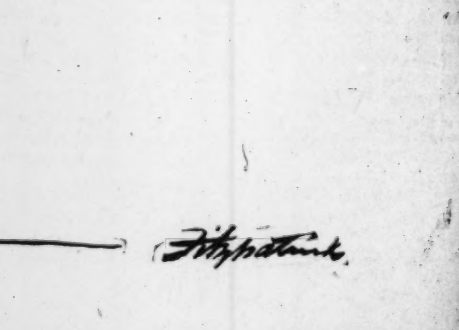

FOR the most part, primaries everywhere are a farce—a mere ratification of a machine's choice, made by an absurdly small number of machine men. These are our delegates to the national conventions that nominate our Presidents chosen. Thus are our Senators, Governors, Mayors and judges nominated. This is the country run—not by the people but by the politicians. Thus are our rulers chosen in the last analysis, not by a majority, not even by a majority of an exceedingly small minority. There is not space here to go into the reasons for the political inertia, indifference and ignorance of the American people toward politics. The fact is that no one is certain about the reasons. It can be blamed on the movies, on the newspapers, on the politicians, on the propagandists, on the absorption in business on the general prosperity, on sports, on any number of things. The favorite place to unload responsibility is on the daily press, and certainly a strong indictment can be made of the American newspapers. However, when you admit every charge against them—that does not adequately explain the low political estate to which we have fallen. Nobody can be certain about the reasons. It is enough to know that the facts are true. There is, however, one basic fact of which we can be sure—that the evils of politics in every community are exactly equal to the indifference of the voters to the primaries. That is a provable proposition and it is about all you can prove regarding the situation except that it exists.

INDEPENDENT VOTE IN KENTUCKY.

FROM the Louisville Courier-Journal.
STRANGE phenomenon of the recent election in Kentucky was the tendency to abandon party ties in nearly every county, from the mountains to the Purchase. Rock-ribbed Republican strongholds went Democratic and counties where Republicans were considered scarce as July frost suddenly overturned normal Democratic majorities. No matter what the particular motives guiding those who went to the polls, as far as the result may be evidence of a general rebellion against the party bosses and a refusal of the men and women of Kentucky to dance to the crack of the party whip, it bodes good for Kentucky.

INHERITANCE TAX PRIMITIVE.

FROM the Philadelphia Ledger.
NOW that the Prince of Wales has signified his return by a fall from his horse that landed him unhurt on the ground, it is a wonder that someone doesn't suggest that the spokesman for the White House communicate to the British Ambassador in Washington the name of the maker of the good old reliable animal that the President is said to ride as a health exercise. The mechanical horse, operated by electricity, doubtless would be pronounced safe and sound for the heir to the British throne.

ST. LOUIS U. ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF COACH DAN SAVAGE SOLDAN GE

Harvey Brown Likely to Be New Director

Line Coach, Popular With Players, Expected to Be in Charge of 1926 Eleven.

REPORTS OF FRICTION

Savage to Complete Year as Coach of Basketball and Baseball Squads.

The resignation of Dan J. Savage as director of athletics at St. Louis University was accepted by the athletic board of the institution at a meeting yesterday. The action comes as the climax of a long period of friction between the coach and the board.

Savage, whose contract expires this year, will complete the year as basketball and baseball coach. Harvey Brown, Savage's assistant and line coach, has been retained and, although officials of the board would not verify it, is believed to be slated for the job of head football coach for next year. Brown, who was captain at Notre Dame in his last year and a second all-American pick for guard by the late Walter Camp, would have as his assistants Bob Hannegan, who assisted this year, and Jim Finnegan, freshman coach.

Men Strong for Brown. While specifically a line coach, Brown has a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the other departments of the game as he has demonstrated in his two-year tenure as assistant coach.

When it was rumored last week that Savage was to be deposed it also was stated that Brown would be summoned before the board to explain why he had failed to build up a line which would rank with the one he developed last year.

Friends of Brown went to the front and declared that Brown had been short of all power by friction during the 1925 campaign. Whereas in 1924 Brown shifted line men when he saw fit and sent in different combinations to experiment in early games, this year he sat on the sidelines, a mere spectator.

Men close to St. Louis University say the squad has a high regard for Brown's ability and that if they are consulted they will vote strongly for his appointment as head coach.

Contract Optional One. The break between Savage and the board has been hanging fire for some time. Since his first year at the school, in 1923, the breach has been widening. His latest contract, entered into at the start of the recent season, was a one-year instrument to which another year might be added at the option.

The past season's record of six defeats, two victories and one tie was the breaking point. It was one of the worst in the school's football history and was laid at Savage's door, although it was conceded that the schedule was exceptionally arduous and the injuries to the players many.

Schaefer Favored To Beat Horemans

Title 18.2 Balkline Match Will Be Started at Chicago Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The youngest challenger and the youngest champion ever to go to the table in a title cue conflict meet tonight when Edouard Horemans of Belgium and "Young" Jake Schaefer of Chicago play their first block of 500 points for the world's 18.2 balkline billiard championship. Five hundred points will be played on each of the two following nights.

Horemans, the challenger, who, at 24, is champion of Europe, finished second to Jake in a championship tournament held here last March and thus earned the right to the first cue duel with the title holder.

Although Schaefer rules the favorite, Horemans is considered a dangerous opponent. In the March tourney he was defeated only by Schaefer, after winning from such experts as Suzuki, Welker Cochran, Willie Hoppe and Erich Hagen-lacher in succession.

Elliott Sets
New Record in 250-Mile Race

Averages 127.87 Miles an Hour—Cairen and Wonderlich Are Injured.

By the Associated Press
CULVER CITY, Cal., Nov. 30.—
Frank Elliott established a new record for 250 miles in winning the Culver City automobile classic yesterday, and four other records were broken by Earl Cooper, whose gasoline shortage on the 185th lap forced him out of the lead.

Elliott's average was 127.87
miles an hour, and his exact time, 1:57:18.1-5, which lowered the record of 1:58:13.3-5, an average of 126.88 miles an hour, made by Tommy Milton at Culver City last March.

Cooper's terrific speed before his gasoline gave out, caused marks for 75, 100, 150 and 200 miles to be made. Cooper came in fifth.
Second place went to Harry Hart, three-fourths of a lap behind the winner. Fred Comer was third and Bob McDonough fourth. Sixth and seventh places went, respectively, to Dave Evans and Bennett Hill.

Two Drivers Injured.
A crash at the twenty-fourth lap resulted in the serious injury of Red Cairen, while Jerry Won-derlich received bruises and suffered a slight concussion of the brain. Cairen, who was said to have an even chance for recovery, drove formerly in Indiana and this was his second appearance on a board speedway.

Elliott drove the same car that Jimmy Murphy, 1924 champion, was piloting when he was killed at Syracuse, N. Y., more than a year ago.

Tommy Milton was among the large number of drivers who failed to finish, but on points won in former races, retained second rank in the championship standings.
The fast time was aided by perfect weather conditions. Most of the race the sun was hidden behind thin clouds, thus preventing high temperatures, which play havoc with tires. High speeds were forecast, however, when in practice Cooper reached a pace of 140.2 and several other drivers nearly equaled the mark.

ing back 80 yards before being downed.

After the game it was announced that Earl Britton, fullback and Grange's former teammate on the University of Illinois eleven, had signed a contract to play professional football with the Chicago Bears. He is expected to appear in the Bears' lineup at St. Louis next Wednesday.

Butz, Center,
Is Selected to Captain Team

Two Players of Roosevelt
Team, Which Did Not Win
Game, Are Picked.

Soldan High School, winner of the interscholastic league championship, gains four places on the all-star football team for 1926.
Picked for the Post-Dispatch by coaches of the five elevens, Central gets three places, Roosevelt two and Cleveland and Yeatman
one each.

There was little doubt about Cameron of Central, an end; Mess of Roosevelt and Levy of Soldan, tackles, and Butz of Soldan, center. These players stood out all week. Mess was chosen, though he played on a team that did not win a game. One coach when asked about the Roosevelt star said, "We pointed that side of the Roosevelt line and I don't remember how he held up, but he did."

Butz was a stone wall on the defense, in addition to opening holes for the backfield men to slip through. Perhaps the most consistent and reliable player in the league was Buster Levy, Soldan's tackle.

Mugrove Heavily Guarded.
George Cameron provided Central with a powerful offensive.
Since the Mid-Cityans gained much ground with the forward pass combination of Hartnett to Cameron, because of his height, Cameron invited many of his opponents' attention and smothered plays which came around his end.

Running an eleven which had an undenied lack of spirit together with poor football brains, somewhat handicapped Homer Musgrove of Cleveland. Musgrove was heavily guarded all season, and there was an excellent reason for this, since the Carondelet flash was hard to stop once under way. Musgrove is a brainy field general, possessed with football intuition.
Cleveland will lose a wonderful athlete, when Musgrove gets his diploma in January.

An absence of capable guards,
plus a number of excellent tackles, made necessary the moving of Frango from tackle to guard. Stein was chosen as a guard, because of his consistency. Mess and Stein combined to make the left side of was at end, but because Soldan was short of backfield players, and intended with ends, it was decided to put Baker in back of the line.

Yeatman's lone representative on the eleven is "Red" Smith, who was the outstanding player on the North Side team. He carried the brunt of ball-carrying, besides being the punter and passer.

"Michigan of 1901 Greatest Team I Ever Saw" Says Fielding Yost

Scored 550 Points Against Nothing; Won 11 Games and Lost None, Swamp- ing Every Foe.

By FIELDING H. YOST.

THE enthusiasm and curiosity of the real football fan know- eth no limits. I am forever asked to name the greatest player I ever saw. When I have done this I am immediately asked to name the greatest team I ever saw.

In an earlier chapter I expressed the opinion that Willie Heston, who played on the first team I ever coached at Michigan, was the greatest player of football I ever knew. To me he is an incarnation in a football way of everything Ty Cobb, Hank Wagner and Babe Ruth have been in a baseball way.

Willie was one of the great stars on my 1901 team, and that team is unquestionably the greatest I ever saw or coached. In my 30 years of football I have seen numer- ous "great" teams but never have I seen one to compare with it. I doubt if any of the great teams I have not seen was its equal. Cer- tainly, no team made the record it did.

My friend, "Big Bill" Edwards, captain of Princeton's cham- pionship team of 1899, may dispute me, and some of my other Eastern friends may rise in defense of their favorite teams. Harvard, Yale, the Army, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Rut- gers, Penn State and a number of other colleges in the East have had great teams. Some of these I saw.

Likewise, the South may rise to defense of the great teams at Van- derbilt, Georgia Tech, Centre Col- lege, Auburn, Alabama and a few others. The Coast will do the same thing for Stanford and California and a few others. Michigan's rivals in the Western Conference and sup- porters of other Western teams may dispute me. But to me, that Mich- igan team of 1901 will always be the greatest team in the history of the game.

Its Record Made It Great.
I SUPPOSE it will be said I am prejudiced in its favor because I coached it. I'm sorry, for I want that team to get the credit which is almost its due in spite of the fact that I happen to have an affectionate interest in it. It would, I am sure, still be the greatest team I ever saw if it had been coached by some one else and had ridden roughshod over a team coached by me. Indeed, I suppose I would have more reason to be impressed by it if this were the case.

FIELDING H. YOST.

That team played 11 games and won them all. It scored the amaz- ing total of 550 points and not one of its opponents scored a single point against it.

Nowadays, when a Middle West- ern or Eastern team goes to the Pacific Coast for a post-season game the newspapers generally say something about the change of cli- mate and the handicap which these teams assume in making such a trip.

My 1901 team took part in the first Tournament of Roses game ever played at Pasadena and paid no attention at all to the change in the climate. We had already played 10 games, and following this we made the long trip to the Coast to meet Stanford, which I had coached the previous year.

It was 10 degrees below zero when we left Ann Arbor and it was 85 above when we arrived at Pas- adena. The game was played on a Wednesday. On the preceding Sun- day, Fisher, captain of the California team, came around to take me out for a drive.

Played 35-Minute Halves.

I TOLD him I thought we might come to some agreement on the length of the halves. In those days games were divided into halves of 35 minutes instead of quarters. Fisher said Stanford would prefer to play full length halves. In fact, he insisted that each half would not be a minute less than the usual 35. I had suggested a slight mod- ification because we went to the coast with only 15 men. As it turned out, we didn't need any of the substitutes. The 11 men I start- ed with finished the game.

Along about the middle of the second half, Captain Fisher sug- gested that the game would have to be cut short. The score then was 35 to 0 in our favor and he had used all his substitutes. I re- minded him, using his own words, that it wasn't to be a "minute un- der 35." However, Stanford was unable to finish the game, and with 10 minutes still to go the game ended. The score was 49 to 0. Neither the long trip after a sched- ule of 10 games, nor the change in climate, affected that Michigan team of 1901. Nothing ever did.

A story that I got a big kick out of has to do with the game which this team played against Buffalo at Ann Arbor. Buffalo had beat- en Columbia, 5 to 0, and was coached by a Dartmouth man. In spite of the record my team had made they thought they would win sure. Before the game started one of the Michigan students came up to me and said the Buffalo coach had bet $20 we wouldn't score.

"What have I to do with that?" I said.

"Maybe you haven't anything to do with it," the youngster an- swered, "but it's my twenty that Buffalo will win if we don't score."

"I've Got You Buffaloe."
A THE end of the first half the Buffalo coach said the game would have to be called off. He had brought out twenty men and they had all been used up. The score then was 65 to 0 and for a number of reasons I didn't want the game to stop. I told him he could put his players back in the second half. As often as he wished. Fifteen minutes later Simpson, a big tackle, came over to our side of the field and sat down with our substitutes. "You're in the wrong paw," I said. "No," he an- swered. "I know where I am. I've been in there three times and I'll be blanked if I'll go in again."

A few years ago he came up to me at Shreveport, La., where he was making a geological study of oil, and said, "I'm the man who sat down with your substitutes, in the Buffalo game in 1901. Don't you think that was an awful way to finish a college career?"

But when you stop to consider that we finally won that game by the score of 128 to 0 I think we oughtn't to be too severe in our judgment, for that was the game which brought about the saying "I've got you Buffaloe." We cer- tainly did have Buffalo "buffaloe" that day.

Both—mildness and fullness!

Real delicacy of aroma but without loss of natural tobacco taste and character

"They satisfy and yet they're mild"—this is no mere catch-phrase; it's a taste-description of Chesterfield.

MILDNESS and fullness, the North and South poles of cigarette taste —can they be brought together in one cigarette? Seemingly no; practically yes, and with no compromise or loss of either.

It calls for the best in tobaccos; tobaccos of rare delicacy—the tender silky leaf of the costliest Turkish type;
tobaccos of rich mellowness and "body"
—the choicest of fine old Burley and other Domestic varieties.

But fine tobaccos alone are not enough. To achieve mildness with fullness, to preserve natural tobacco taste and character without a trace of heaviness, to produce a cigarette that satisfies and that, at the same time, is mild—here is a job that calls not only for the choicest tobaccos, but for the highest degree of skill in blending them.

And in the Chesterfield blend you have it—the exact balancing of one tobacco against another, the accurate toning and shading of each type of leaf, the rich mildness, the satisfying fullness, the rounded-out completeness which belong to Chesterfield and—because the blend can't be copied—to Chesterfield alone!

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS BODY MAY WITHDRAW FROM DAVIS CUP SERIES

By the Associated Press.
SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 26.—The Australian Tennis Association is not pleased that the Americans failed to send a team here, and threaten to withdraw from the Davis Cup competition. At a meeting of the association it was emphasized that the Americans had done much for American tennis, especially financially, and it was decided to inform the American tennis authorities that owing to lack of funds the association probably would not continue in the Davis Cup series.

BOSISIO IS VICTOR IN BOUT WITH STEENHORST

ROME, Nov. 26.—Mario Bosisio of Milan decisively defeated Steenhorst, heavyweight boxing champion of Holland, in 15 rounds here Saturday night and now plans to leave soon for the United States claiming the heavyweight championship of Europe. The vast theater Adriano was packed from floor to ceiling with spectators, including several members of the royal household and the British Ambassador. Bosisio had the advantage from the first, but the Dutchman held out against his terrific pummeling until he was stunned in the fifteenth round and his seconds stopped the fight.

Jim Dunn Leads Ben Millers to 4-2 Victory Over Chicago Club

Visitors Display Masterful Technique in Midfield, but Fail to Finish Off Advances With Good Shots—Improvement Needed in Local Club.

By Dent McKimming.

Another Chicago team has tried and failed. For 20 years past St. Louis has proved its superiority over its neighbor city in the art of soccer and this season, in which local clubs are really below the usual St. Louis standard, finds Chicago still reaching in vain for a victory. Yesterday, the Ben Millers of this city defeated the Canadian Club of Chicago, 4 to 2, in an exhibition game at St. Louis University Field.

About four weeks ago the Vesper scored a 2-2 victory over the Bricklayers of Chicago.

Through the greater part of the game, the Millers were making fruitless efforts to find the ball, a sort of blind man's buff. The Canadian Club was composed of polished players and the local backfield men found themselves running in circles when the ball was in midfield. However, the visitors became heavy-footed when it became a question of finishing off an excellent piece of combination work with a good shot at goal. Except for a few rare occasions when Outside Left Edwards cut loose, there was not a dangerous shot on the visitors' forward line. Their two goals were scored thus: Outside Right McGregor headed through a cross from Ed. Mulroy and Fullback King scored a ripping penalty kick.

Weaknesses Exposed.

If the game is accepted as a medium through which to discover the weaknesses of the local team in order that faults may be corrected, it may prove very valuable to George Miller, backer of the Miller club, and Billy Foley, the team manager. There is no question that the Canadian Club exposed to the 3500 spectators several fatal weaknesses in the Ben Miller eleven.

Only the astonishing speed and punch of the forward line saved the day for the green shirts. Jimmy Dunn was not merely good, he was irrepressible. His goal after three-quarters of a minute of play gave the local lads a temporary lead; his well conceived pass to E. Dunn led to the second goal; his artfulness in the pinch provided an opening through which Nash and Mulroy pushed the fourth goal and Jimmy himself scored No. 3. Bolla, although held scoreless, was an essential factor in every attack.

A protest was lodged with the referee, Robert "Robby" Murphy, after the fourth goal, in which Mulroy tapped the ball into the net after Goalkeeper Neate had partially blocked Benny Nash's shot. The visitors contended Mulroy was offside, but Referee Murphy ruled that Nash's shot was deflected by Neate to Mulroy. This touching of the ball by Neate immediately placed Mulroy onside, regardless of where he stood.

Vic Neate a Rare Bird.

Goalkeeper Vic Neate, Center Halfback Adams and Center Forward Carroll were the outstanding performers on the visiting team. The fullbacks also performed well. Neate made numerous good stops, but his work on two terrific shots by Benny Nash, both of which he tipped out for corner kicks, was astonishing. He had no chance whatever on the four shots which were scored against him.

Ted Mulroy's efficiency was reduced somewhat in the closing minutes of the second half after he had received a clod of mud in his left eye. The eyeball was bruised and became immediately inflamed, so that he continued play with one eye of little service.

In the earlier moments of the game Eddie Dunn was far off form. His inability to do anything but run straight up the line made him an easy man to stop. He had nothing in reserve when cut off by Fullback Houghton. The Millers would do well to take this young man and force him to learn some football, for his speed is a wonderful asset—provided he has something else with it.

RECORDS THAT STAND

THE WORLD'S GREATEST FIGHTING RECORD

LA PALINA CIGAR

PETER HAUPTMANN TOBACCO CO.,

CONGRESS CIGAR COMPANY, Philadelphia, Pa.

BOB FITZSIMMONS was a fighter! Make no mistake about that! Even though he was a champion three times over, Fitz worked at his job and loved it. He took them all—big and little—and reached for more.

It was more than sheer fighting ability that put Fitzsimmons in a class by himself—more than grit, courage and gameness. There was something about the man himself that stamped "champion" all over him and that made him one of the best-liked champs we ever had.

You can sense that quality sometimes in other directions. Take La Palina Cigars for example. The minute you light up and start getting that wonderfully pleasing fragrance, you know you're backing a champion, and you understand instantly why La Palina has run up the greatest popularity record a cigar ever made—over a million made, sold and smoked every 24 hours!

Lending Freight Cars to Speed Deliveries

One of the cardinal reasons for the splendid record made by American Railroads since their return to private management, is their increased operating efficiency.

Constant striving on the part of railroad managements to facilitate the transportation of freight, has resulted in an immense saving of time, as well as money, to American shippers.

Originally, American Railroads would not permit their freight cars to leave their own lines of track, making necessary sluggish and expensive transfers of freight. This custom was later changed in certain sections of the country, so that the body of the freight car was transferred to the trucks, or running gear, of the receiving road—still a costly and slow process.

To-day, the movement of freight cars is speeded by the transfer or interchange from one trunk line to another, without disturbing the contents of the car.

During the past year, the L. & N. received over 1,500,000 cars from connecting lines, and delivered 1,540,000 to other roads. These figures evidence a close co-operation on the part of the carriers in their efforts to serve the public.

Questions Answered---Radio

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to select any query Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

E. A. S.—A silver dollar coined in 1795 is worth $1.50 to $2.
L. E. R.—We do not give business addresses in this column.
Watch the advertising.
READER—Consult a book dealer about the value of the old books.

R. H.—Write to the Chamber of Commerce, Bakersfield, Cal., regarding the company located there.
ROBT. C. M.—Consult the City
Map Department at the City Hall
regarding the ward boundaries.
G. A. D.—See answer to M. A. D.
which appeared in this column
Nov. 23.

N. R. B.—Write to the General Land Office, Interior Department, Washington, D. C., regarding the homesteading of lands.
JACKIE—Write to the orchestra leader and the artist for a picture and they may be willing to send you 20 hours.

A. A.—One penny means 1-100 of the whole amount, and one-tenth of 1-100 of the whole amount means one-cent means one-tenth of 1-100 of the whole amount.
If you are the police regarding the disappearance of your husband, also advertise in the papers in the city where he disappeared for information as to his whereabouts.

SCHOLBOY—Consult your priest regarding the Catholic books which you wish to study at home. No doubt the Public Library can supply you.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

H. S.—Consult a lawyer regarding the notes.

R. E. R.—The mortgage is not outlived and the holder can foreclose on it.

TOWNE—The state income tax is 1 per cent on the $7.22, that is $7.22.

A. F. M.—You cannot dispose of your soldier bonus certificate.
When it is two years old you can get a loan on it.

P. D. SUBSCRIBER—If the wife threatens the life of her husband, rooms, public assemblies or nearby places, provided that her conduct was unjustified and there are no children, he would not have
to support her.

J. P. P.—There is a law compelling parents to have the birth of a child recorded at the time of the birth. It has been in force since 1900. The law requires that all births in the State of Missouri shall be registered.

MISS X. Y. Z.—We certainly advise you to consult a physician, preferably a skin specialist, as it often happens that just such trivial and apparently unimportant growths are malignant in character and if such is the case no time should be lost in having them completely removed.

ANXIOUS—Cancer is not contagious or infectious. There is some grounds for supposing it to be hereditary, or at least the inheritance of a predisposition to its development. Apparently the most frequent cause for it is some long-continued irritation. Other than this practically nothing is known as to the true cause of cancer.

BROKEN HEARTED—Many remedies and so-called cures are used in treating a person in the early stages of tuberculosis, but we would recommend creosote in conjunction with the hygienic phases. Purchase one ounce of Morse's creosote in the original package to insure its purity, and take a dose of 3 to 5 drops dissolved in a dessert-spoonful of whiskey, adding a wineglassful of water, taking it three times daily after meals.
Then take a dessert-spoonful of Fellows Syrup of Hypophosphites, also bought in the original package, shortly after the creosote, or it may all be taken at one dose.
Increase the amount of creosote by one drop each day until ten drops are taken at a dose.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

rooms, public assemblies or near-
by places, provided that her
conduct was unjustified and there
are no children, he would not have
to support her.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL MEETING TOMORROW

The Post-Dispatch Committee to Make Final Plans at Noon Gathering.

The Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Committee will hold a special meeting at Hotel Jefferson tomorrow noon to make final plans for the Christmas festival of this year. Following this meeting the various committees appointed last week will begin work on details connected with the big party.

When the committee met on Wednesday of last week, following a recess of almost a year, it was decided that Christmas baskets with dinners for persons whose names were on the Post-Dispatch Christmas festival hospitality list would be distributed as usual, and a special committee was appointed to investigate the question of where and how to entertain the children and distribute the gifts. This committee will report tomorrow. Herman Spoehrer is chairman of the special committee.

A. M. Roth, who has been chairman of the Post-Dispatch Festival Committee for a number of years, will preside at tomorrow's meeting, which has been called for 12:30 sharp.

BARBERS USE THEIR FISTS TO SETTLE TONSORIAL SUPREMACY

Two Owners of Shops at Clayton Separated by Friends, Each Claim Victory.

John W. Besancenez and Hurst Love, whose barber shops are just around the corner from one another at Clayton, were greeting customers today with their usual cheer, but with visages marred and plumes drooping, as a consequence of a struggle between the two last night, to determine which was the greater master of tonsorial art.

Besancenez, according to his own statement, was preparing to return home last night, when friends came in and induced him to accompany them to the shop of Love for a friendly game. During the course of the evening Love remarked that he was the best barber in town.

"I would have let it go at that," Besancenez told reporters, "but then he said that he could cut more heads of hair in a day than I could, and do it more skillfully." This remark, according to Besancenez, could not go unchallenged. The two clashed upon the floor of Love's shop. Both suffered severe wounds about the head when they were finally separated by friends.

When interviewed this morning, both men claimed the victory. Each also was equally vehement in asserting his superior skill at the profession.

U. S. SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO ADVANCE DELMAR CASE

Appeal That of Wabash From State Court Decision on Grade Crossing Elimination.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The United States Supreme Court today refused to advance the date for hearing the Delmar boulevard grade crossing case in St. Louis as requested by the Mayor and City Council of St. Louis and by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The case pending is the appeal of the Wabash Railroad from the decision of the Missouri Supreme Court, upholding the city's plan for elimination of the grade crossing. The Rock Island Railroad also appeared as an appellant.

It was stated last April, when the case was docketed, that the Supreme Court would not reach it in the regular course of business before the spring or even the fall of 1926.

Suicide Note Called a Hoax.

A suicide note found on Eads Bridge and turned over to the police yesterday is thought to be the work of a joker. On one side of the note was written "John Costello and Tom O'Meara jumped off Eads Bridge, Nov. 23. Notify my wife, 2329 Eads avenue." On the other was: "Gone but not forgotten. Tell the poolroom boys good-bye. J. C. and T. O'M. The Eads avenue address was found to be fictitious and the names were not known in the neighborhood.

How to Detect High Blood Pressure

Thousands of men and women are on the road to serious high blood pressure and will not know it until face to face with one of its dangerous effects. It is known high blood pressure causes Bright's disease, Apoplexy and often sudden death.

If you experience dizziness, shortness of breath, head pains, flushed face, nervousness, sleeplessness, or chronic fatigue take those as nature's warnings, and don't fail to begin checking them at once.

High blood pressure is caused by poisonous waste matter accumulating in the system or the weakening of one or more organs. This forces the heart to double the work and raises blood pressure.

The quickest acting simplest home treatment for reducing high blood pressure is with a purely vegetable medicine like Norma, the successful prescription of a famous Buffalo physician. Norma contains no harmful habit-forming drugs and its effect is immediate. It drives out poisons, weakens the burden of the overtaxed heart and swiftly and safely reduces blood pressure. Get a bottle of Norma today and free yourself from life shortening high blood pressure. A. Wolff-Wilson, Judge and Dolph Drug Store and all other pool druggists.

The Beauty of Slimness

By LUCY A. BORI

THE girl of today may not have the same criticisms heaped upon her as the girl of yesterday. She is not so fat, but she is not so slim as she should be. No one can say she is a beauty, but no one can say she is not a beauty.

There are certain exercises which are specially recommended because of their benefit to our inner organs. Unfortunately, many women suffer from a slight drooping of the organs, principally the stomach and intestines, and do not know that this is the case. Muscles strengthened by the exercises I am going to give here will pull such organs back into the position nature intended for them.

The exercise is as follows: Lie flat on your back on the floor. You should be loosely clad. A bathing suit makes an excellent garment for such exercises.

Now raise your feet up above your head. At the same time bring your hands up to your hips, to act as supports. Your arms should be resting on the floor from your shoulders to your elbows.

Next, bend both your knees so as to bring them down toward your feet as far as possible. This exercise may be alternated with a kicking up and down with your feet. It is excellent to reduce your hips and abdomen, as well as to take superfluous fat off your body and make them strong and supple. Keep this up for 10 minutes each morning. It may be difficult at first, but you can master it.

"I'd give her the world with a ribbon around it if I could. But it isn't mine to give, and probably it wouldn't be good for her if she had it. What would you do?"

When I suggested using parental authority, Elizabeth said that the girls of today don't recognize any such thing.

So I don't know what I could do. What would you do if you were Elizabeth and Betty your daughter?

Countess E. B. Gubanow, member of a once wealthy and influential family in Russia, is disbarred from ever again entering her country, but she is just as well satisfied as she loves America and since coming here has become an apt aviatrix.

What a lovely world it is! I don't know what I could do. What would you do if you were Elizabeth and Betty your daughter?

ALAS, POOR MOTHER

By LUCY LOWELL

ELIZABETH was very sad. It was the day after a shopping expedition and she declared gloomily that now the other half of her hair was gray and she suspected a flock of new wrinkles.

"Oh, that child!" she moaned. By which I understood that the shopping had been undertaken in the interest of Betty, the flapper daughter, who is as modern as her mother is the other way.

"We planned to buy her two dresses, a coat and a hat—for school," sighed Elizabeth. "And I didn't expect to pay Paris prices for them, either. She is only 15, you know, and her clothes are—or should be—simple."

"Well, everything went beautifully until we entered the department store and I started for bargain basements. They really do have wonderful things in some of the basement stores."

"But I didn't get far. Betty declared herself terribly embarrassed and flatly refused to put her foot in any basement. So of course I had to go higher up."

"And oh my dear, what a day! We went from shop to shop. And when we'd done them all, we came back to the first and went over the same route again. It was terrible!"

They started out on dresses, according to the story. Elizabeth found some charming little wool frocks, the very thing planned for a high school girl, at $10, the price she had planned to pay.

But Betty didn't like them. They were either too narrow or too wide. Or they were too bright or too dark. Or the collar was all wrong. Or the sleeves didn't suit.

But there was one—priced $18—she thought might do. So when it began to get dark and the shops were about to close, Elizabeth bought it, in desperation. It cost almost as much as the two were scheduled to cost. But Betty expects another of the same sort.

And, of course, she will figure on the prices of coat and hat being moved up, too.

"And what I'm going to do I don't know," Elizabeth told me. "We have to figure on making our income go as far as it will, and we can't afford it. You see, it isn't as if she'd wear the things a long time. She gets tired of her clothes in just a little while and must have new ones."

"I'd give her the world with a ribbon around it if I could. But it isn't mine to give, and probably it wouldn't be good for her if she had it. What would you do?"

When I suggested using parental authority, Elizabeth said that the girls of today don't recognize any such thing.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

The New Dam Is Started

A builder sees his labor done Before the work is even begun.

—Paddy the Beaver.

He ran along beside this, lipperty-lipperty-lip!

DO YOU understand just what Paddy means by that little saying? He means that one who is planning to make anything, no matter what, must in his mind see it all completed; see it just as it will look in every little detail. And he must do this before he even begins work on it. In his mind he must have a pattern and see it clearly or his work will fail.

It was so in the matter of the new dam which he and his family were to build down the Laughing Brook so as to make a new pond that they might be sure of food enough for the next winter. It was not necessary for Mrs. Paddy or for the young Beavers to see in their minds just how that dam would look when finished, because all they would have to do would be to work with Paddy and do as he did or told them to do. But it was necessary for Paddy to have in his mind a picture of that dam, and he did. He probably didn't know that he did, but he did just the same. If he hadn't had that picture in his mind, he wouldn't have been so particular as to just where that dam should be placed.

Peter Rabbit had kept his eyes open for signs of a new dam or a new canal ever since he had led Paddy the Beaver to a certain little grove of poplar trees and had been thanked by Paddy. Every evening when he ran over to the Green Forest he went straight to that place and looked around for some signs that Paddy was at work there. Finding none, he would run down to the Laughing Brook to see if Paddy and the others of his family were at work there. But he didn't see so much as a sign that they had even thought of building a dam or digging a canal.

"Humph!" exclaimed Peter one night after useless search. "I guess that Paddy has more sense than I thought he had and will wait until some time near winter before he begins work. The idea of working in the summer for the very first glance that those sticks had been placed there by some one. Otherwise they never would have been in a row like that. One look was enough to show him that many of those sticks and bushes were green, and meant, of course, that they had been cut and brought there. The big ends showed that that cutting had been done by great, sharp teeth.

"It is the work of Paddy the Beaver," muttered Peter. "It is the work of Paddy the Beaver and his family. But what does it mean? That is what I want to know. This is the beginning of a dam if I know anything about it, but what under the sun are they building a dam way down here in this swamp for?" Peter sat up and looked about. He couldn't see a single poplar tree. There were a few birch trees, but mostly alders. Then he looked back at the beginning of that dam.

"They were at work here last night," said he. "Some of that brush was cut not more than an hour ago, and by the looks of things the whole family must have been at work."

A feeling of disappointment swept over Peter. "Paddy doesn't want those poplar trees I found for him after all," thought Peter. "I guess I didn't help as much as I thought I did. But what a queer place to be building a dam! It is too much for me."

Three Minute Journeys

Where Soldiers' Graves Are Honored Each Year.

THE years of civil war in the United States left seeds of animosity in the hearts of the people of the North and of the South. Each side bore resentment against the other for the loss of dear lives and for the horror of war. It took many years for that feeling to disappear completely but it did eventually. And it was the action of the sympathetic mothers of the South, who distributed their flowers over the graves of son and enemy alike, that established the holiday that was to wipe out the last vestiges of hostility.

Decoration day is the holiday set apart in memory of those who fell in the Civil War. North and South alike, men and women cease from their daily duties and children are released from school to bring their tribute of flowers to the graves of the country's soldiers.

It was many years after the end of the war when May 30 was finally declared a legal holiday throughout most of the country. In those states where it is not legally recognized, it is generally observed anyway. There is no factor which could so completely cement the two sections of the country into a common feeling of good will as this common grief over a common sorrow.

Since young Americans from the North and from the South who gave their lives during the World War, now lie sleeping side by side, Decoration day has taken on a new significance. Northern men were in Southern training camps and Southern men were in northern training camps. During those days, all the sectional feeling disappeared. Now, with loving hands mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers pay this silent tribute to the comrades of their own boys who made the Supreme Sacrifice.

A holiday of this sort has been handed down from civilization to civilization. The Greeks paid honor to the tributes of flowers. A dead was frequently leaves and flowers. An ing of flowers from the dead was considered of happiness.

ROUGH STUFF.

YES, I'm fond of college humor. It's as funny as a tumor. With its snappy cracks supposed to knock 'em dead. It is full of jazz and ragging, necking, gin and lallygagging. That's as elevating as a ton of lead.

NATURALLY.

"Rainey Sees Wet Plot in Tax Reduction Bill." What did Rainey expect to see, a dry plot?

"King of Siam Is Dead Month After Divorce." HERE lie the bones of Rama VI.

Long may his heir survive! He left his wife and crossed the Styx in MCMXXV.

CAN'T BE DONE.

According to figures based on a Government estimate, the average yearly expenditure for laundry service is $5.20 per capita. Ten cents a week! Where do they get that stuff?

The fifth trial of Jimmy Hogan has been continued to the next term of court in Union, Mo. It seems to be a survival of the fittest between the Judge and Jimmy.

The Chief of Police of Saloniki was recently hanged for embezzlement. Gave him the fourth degree, we take it.

From the returns we gather that Red Grange's professional debut was more of a financial than an artistic success. Red got one black eye and nine thousand smackers out of it.

We used to marvel how a man could "drink up a fortune" at 10 cents a drink. Then along came Br'er Volstead and made it easy.

See where the Missouri River, which has been navigable only for boats, will soon be made navigable for boats between St. Louis and Kansas City.

We note that the St. Louis-Kansas City hard-surfaced road, known as Route No. 2, will be out of the mud by Christmas.

The administration has consented to have the picture of Woodrow Wilson on a 17-cent stamp, of which denomination a little more than two are sold per year. As that great patriot, Albert B. Fall, is still alive there is no chance for him to crowd George Washington off the 2-cent stamp at present.

LOCKS.

GOLDEN locks have all been shorn. Tresses are passe; Padlocks now are being worn by the bright café.

When a place has been padlocked for a year, the padlock takes a step upward in the social scale and becomes a time-lock.

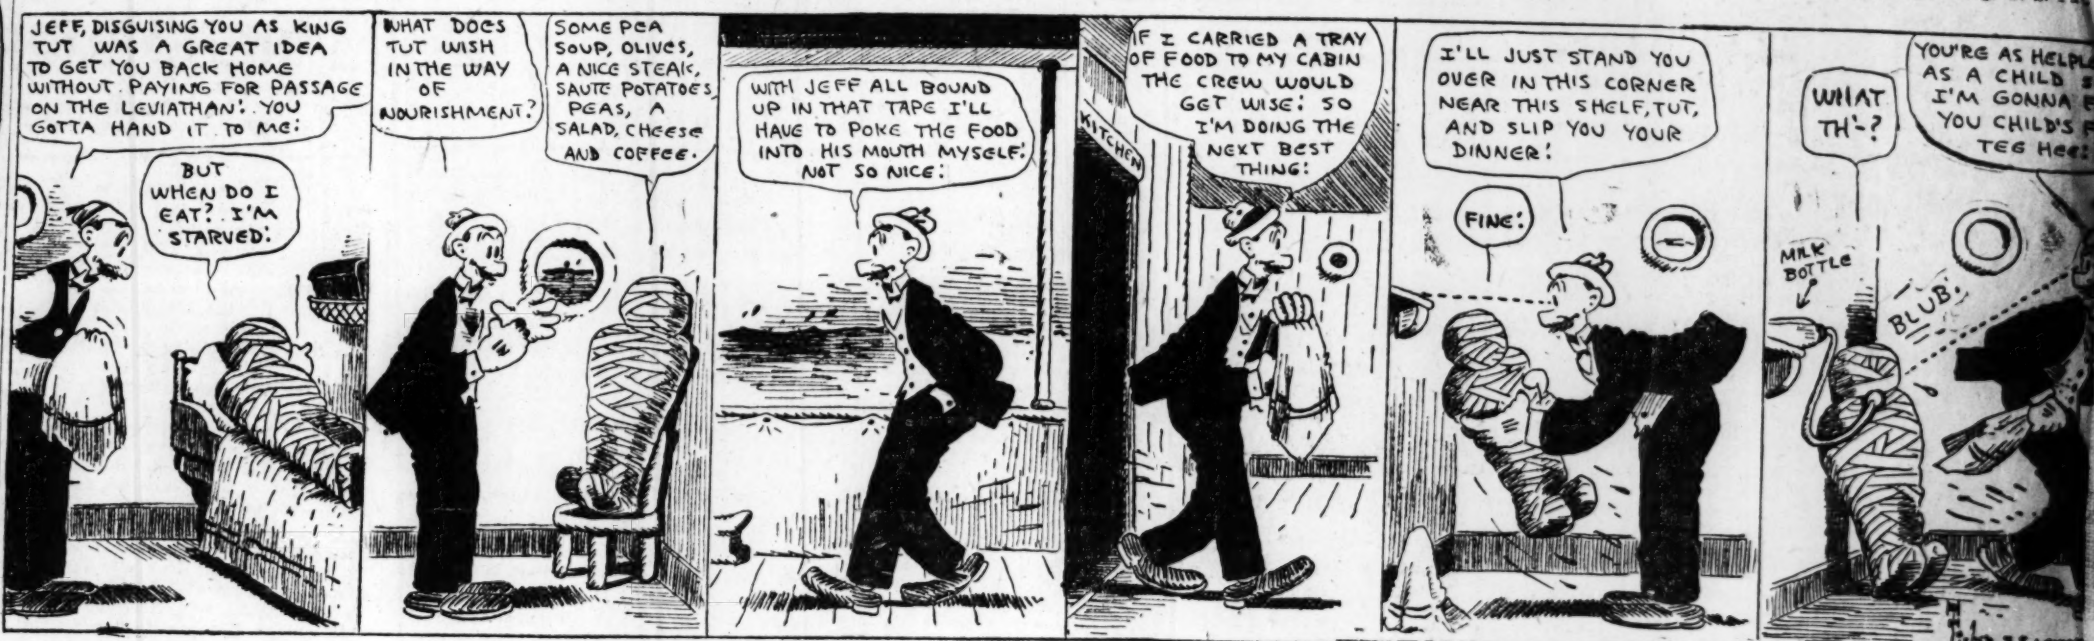

The Yale locks formerly worn by football players have likewise joined the procession of things that were.

In fact we are practically living in a hairless age. Since the passing of whiskers and the handle-bar mustache we rarely ever hear a symphony in soup.

The man on the sandbox says that the rapid strides women are making in the field of affairs encourage him to look forward to the time when Bryn Mawr or Vassar will be represented on the All-America football team.
